THE STRENUOUS VACATION.
The President's at Oyster Bay
Resting.
He chops a cord of wood each day
Resting.
He takes a ten-mile run each morning
And then he hoes a field of corn,
Oh, he is busy, sure's your horn,
Resting.
The President has lots of fun
Resting.
He sweats and sweaters in the sun
Resting.
He is the last to go to bed.
The first to greet the morning red,
Oh, where is he who can be beat?
Resting?

In the derailing of the freight cars yesterday morning six miles above Maysville, W. W.
Bias, 39 years of age, a member of the wrecking crew of the Huntington Division was jolted off a car and fell on a hand car. He sustained a cut in the back of the head and strained muscles of the right shoulder. He was brought to this city where he received proper attention
by the Company's surgeon, Dr. John A. Reed, then sent to his home in Lincoln county, Virginia.

The Academy of Medicine met last evening, President Harover in the chair. Members present: Drs. Reed, Browning, Pickett, Samuel, Smoot, Harover, Ellis, Taylor, Cooper and Yazell, and Davis visiting. Lecturers: Drs.
Taylor and Samuel. Next meeting, Thursday evening, August 1st. It is suggested that inasmuch as members are now fully advised as to time of meeting, that they, as far as possible, arrange professional engagements with reference to regular and prompt attendance.

Bessie Wilson Found at Lock Street
House in Cincinnati

THE LEDGER a few days ago noted the disappearance of Bessie Wilson, aged 15, from the home of her father, C. W. Wilson, in the county.

The girl returned home yesterday, having been located at the home of a Mrs. Ritchie at 306 Lock street, Cincinnati.

The girl stated after she was taken in charge
by Chief of Police Ort of this city, that Mrs.
Ritchie, who was visiting in Maysville, induced her to go to Cincinnati under the promise of securing work for her.

After her arrival there she did not work, but lived with Mrs. Ritchie as her sister.

RESTITUTIONERS

Conscious—Stricken Sinner Refunds
Ill-Gotten Insurance Money

Cincinnati offices of the Liverpool, London and Globe Insurance Company received Saturday a letter with a $400 check inclosed, which the writer states he returns as conscience money.

Records show the writer of the letter was paid a smaller sum several years ago on a policy for loss of his barn.

The writer confesses he sat the structure afire because he needed the money, but since became conscience stricken and has worked day and night to repay the money, which he now does, with interest.

joyed his trip immensely.

Wednesday the lightning played pranks with the 'phone boxes in various parts of the city.
At the Ohio River Lumber Company's office the 'phone was knocked into the middle of the floor; at Fred Thomas's residence in East Second street the electric fluid cut dices and danced a highland fling; at the St. Charles Hotel a flame of fire ran down a wire into the office and gave a fireworks display. At the Elks Home the glass in the skylight in the roof was broken by the wind.

The Sugar Trust alone was able, through a press bureau and alert organizers around the country, to create a large demand for Cuban "reciprocity." The point that the Protectionist most effectively makes is the danger of opening up the whole schedule to changes, with the result of serious business disturbance. But the Tariff issue can be left to another year. The people have other things to think about just now.

WHEN IDA TARBELL has completed her "exposition" of the "iniquities" of our Protective Tariff Legislation, she might find material for an interesting chapter showing how the Cobden Club sought to control the Congressional elections in this country in 1880, by the expenditure of large sums of money, the subsidizing of newspapers and the distribution of large quantities of free trade literature, to promote the reduction of our protective duties for the benefit of British manufacturers.

It is true that the Tariff is responsible for prices in our country being higher for a great many things than they are abroad, but that is an old story. It does not account for the difference between prices today and prices in 1898 or 1899 or 1900. The rise of prices that has taken place in America has taken place likewise in Europe; there may have been a somewhat greater rise here, but there has been no radical difference.

The phenomenon is world-wide. There is little room to doubt that the chief cause of it has been the enormous production of gold. But, whatever the cause, it is idle to look for it in any political action peculiar to this country. And, to come back to the main point, the rise of prices that has come about through the action of economic forces operating throughout the world and not set in motion by the action of any Government cannot, without mischievous confusion of thought, be put into the same category with a deliberate debasement of the monetary standard.—Baltimore News.

THE calling off of the annual Labor Day parade at Chicago is about the most safe and sane act that labor has done for some time. These demonstrations are very expensive and many of them end in a debauch. During the Coxe Army marching days of 1896, the served hosts of labor were marching by the tens of thousands on the streets of Chicago with banners labeled—

"Our children are crying for bread."
A Chicago newspaper published a cartoon of the parade, and added:
"And they marched out to the parks and drank 1,200 kegs of beer."

The true strength of labor lieth in its sober good sense, its poise and its dignity. The parades and the beer and bums should be cut out.

Lord Bramwell, a notable wit of the English Bench, was once sitting in a case where the prisoner was accused of shoplifting.
"My lord, my client is not a common thief," urged the barrister for the defense. "He is suffering from kleptomania."
"That is exactly the disease I am here to cure," replied Lord Bramwell blandly.

WHERE THE DRUMMERS STOP

Stories of Odd Hotels.

I recall one hotel down in the southland which had one of the most primitive bills of fare in the world, writes E. E. Crossland, in the Chicago Tribune. The colored boy appeared at the elbow of the guest morning, noon and night, and his simple inquiry covered the entire ground:

"How you laik yoh aigs?"
Indeed, the south until within the last decade, and in some spots still, furnishes the limit in the hotel line. I remember one evening in March down in Kentucky, I had driven 25 miles over mud roads, and, arriving at the hotel, which appeared tolerably comfortable, I inquired if I could get a hot bath, and, to my delight, was informed that I could. A fine rain, half snow, was falling and a high wind blowing. I went to the room, disrobed, and, throwing a bath robe around me, followed the negro boy down the corridor. Pretty soon we emerged on to a latticed back porch on the second story and in a latticework that was covered with vines in midsummer stood a bathtub, into which the boy had dumped two buckets of hot water. The latticework was open, and even the flaring lamp, sizzling as the snowflakes struck it, revealed me to half the neighbors. I gave up the luxury of the bath and retreated in as good order as possible.

One of the oddest hotels I ever struck was up in the lumber district of upper Michigan. I hit the town one election night, and found the place crowded with loggers from all up and down the river. There was one hotel, a small board affair. The office and dining-room occupied one side, the kitchen was a lean-to in the rear and one long bedroom extending along the entire side of the hotel completed the outfit. A double row of cot beds with heads to the wall made the furnishings, and yet there was only about room enough for a third of the visitors in town to sleep. Along about nine o'clock I decided to retire, and the proprietor after looking me over curiously and evidently debating inwardly, assigned me to a bed, and I turned in.

At midnight every cot was flled and half the pickled log rollers were snoring, when, suddenly and without a trace of warning, every cot was overturned, the occupants dumped on the floor. The sleepers arose, put on what clothes they had removed before retiring and started out without comment. I was dazed for a minute and then began to kick to the boss, who stood in the doorway and yelled: "All out!"

"What the dickens does this mean?" I demanded, hotly.
"First shift turning out," he explained, and as he did so a line of men marched in and retired, while those who had slept in the first shift slipped away to the near by saloons. At three o'clock the second shift was dumped onto the floor and at six, when the third shift was dumped, I paid the boss one dollar extra to let me turn in and sleep until eight.

In earlier days, when I was selling farm machinery in western Kansas, I struck some queer hotels, but the oddest of all was owned and operated by a genius named Richards in a little village in Sheridan county, 15 or 20 miles from Hoxie.

Richards was a queer character, and his specialty was invention. He had invented more worthless things than any man in the country. Almost everything he made would work, but they all required more time and labor than the things he tried to improve on. His barn lot and barn, as well as his little one-story hotel, were filled with things he had invented.

He put me to bed in a small room, perhaps eight by ten, with one small window, and one extremely narrow door. I noticed as he showed me into the room that the place seemed to have double walls.

I retired. The night was sultry and close, but after a time I fell asleep. Sometime during the night I was awakened by a jarring, a rumbling, and the thought flashed into my mind that a cyclone had struck us. I leaped out of bed and ran to the window. A sickening sensation of falling came over me. Everything was dark. I jammed my arm through the window and my fist struck solid earth. I was terror stricken, but with a jar the movement ceased, and with a few minutes we began to ascend again and stopped suddenly. A gust of wind struck me and as I was about to climb through the window Richards opened the door and asked:

"How did she work?"
I demanded an explanation.
"Cyclone," he said, cheerily. "Took the calf barn and two haystacks and part of Dobb's barn and his windmill. I thought it was going to hit us and let you down."

The next morning he showed me the mechanism. Every sleeping room was really a double room, the inside being like an elevator, and he had rigged weights and counter weights until by pushing a lever he could drop all the sleepers in the hotel down into the cellar until the cyclone passed.

It Made a Difference.

RUGGLES CAMPGROUNDS

Splendid Meeting Now in Progress at this Beautiful Resort

RUGGLE'S CAMPGROUNDS, July 25th, 1907.

The opening days of another Campmeeting are with us for which we are all glad. That this Campmeeting is growing in popularity is an evident fact. We don't believe there is a more delightful place in Kentucky for a Campmeeting than right here, a place where nature seems to have outdone itself in making the surroundings so beautiful and further the management has always been in the hands of consecrated Christian men who have always looked after the best religious influence that could be had for the benefit of the campers.

The religious services began with a six o'clock prayer service this morning led by Dr. G. N. Jolly of Vanceburg. At 10 o'clock Rev. F. W. Harrop, who is in charge of the meetings, conducted a short service which was in the nature of a preparatory service and at which a number of short talks and suggestions were made in the interest of the meetings.

Mayville folks are in evidence at every turn. The following are now here—

The Misses Bierbower and Miss Esther Hutchins, Mrs. J. H. Dodson, Rev. G. W. Buntin and wife, Mrs. William A. Wood and little son, Mrs. Harry Ort and children, Mr. John Walsh and family, John Crane and family, Mrs. Jane Morris, Mrs. B. F. Thomas and children, Miss Mattie Parker, Rev. M. A. Wallingford, Messrs. Benson and Lowry Orr, Sam McNott and Ward Nash, Mrs. B. K. Mase and family, Mrs. B. P. McClanahan and son, Pickett, Mrs. Fannie McDaniell, Mrs. Rosa Poth and Miss Lucie Ryder, Mrs. Belle Smith and Miss Mary Belle Cady and J. H. Richardson and family. Those from a distance are Mrs. R. B. Griffith and two sons of Indianapolis, and Mrs. H. S. Lawwill and son of Plainfield, Ind.; Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Heflin of Newport; John Walsh, Jr., and Mr. Ike of Cincinnati, R. G. Walsh of Charleston, W. Va., and Mrs. W. L. Davidson of Walnut Hills, Cincinnati.

The following ministers are present—Presiding Elder F. W. Harrop of the Covington District, Rev. Dr. G. N. Jolly of Vanceburg, Rev. John Cheap of Germantown and Dr. J. D. Walsh, Revs. G. W. Buntin and M. A. Wallingford of Mayaville. Others are expected daily.

Prof. Nett our leader of song is a new man with us, but judging from the manner in which he leads the singing and the quality of his rich tenor voice, we feel safe in predicting music far above the average for this year. Prof. Nett is an accomplished musician, having been connected in that capacity with the Ohio Northern University at Ada, Ohio, for some years and with the new Paintsville Seminary of our state for the last year. We are promised anthems, solos, male quartettes and other special music for the meetings in addition to the good old-time Methodist congregational singing of all the old familiar songs that we all know.

Mr. F. F. Gerbrich, whom we all recognize as a part of our campmeeting is here, today, having brought out for use in the meetings, one of his best Church organs. He also brought along his best campmeeting smile with which he makes himself so popular with the ladies, especially about dinner time.

The first Sunday promises to be a big day with us this year. The management were very fortunate in securing the services of the Rev. F. W. D. Cole, Pastor of St. Paul's Church, Cincinnati. Dr. Cole is one of the leading preachers in Methodism and his services are continuously in demand for Campmeetings, Chautauques, Summer Assemblies and other special occasions. All who can, should come out Sunday and hear this gifted man of God.

Col. Will S. Hays was laid to rest yesterday in Cave Hill Cemetery at Louisville.

The name of William Hardin Lucas, Seattle, Wash., appears among those of the list of the survivors of the steamer Columbia, which were taken on board the steamer Elder on Sunday after the disaster, who were taken on board of the San Pedro off Shelter Cove, Cal., the Elder arriving Wednesday at Astoria, Oregon.

How's That?

WINTERS

CASHIER,

MR. JOS. GOODPASTER,

PUBLISHES A LETTER

Just received from Mr. Winter. Mr. Goodpaster asks the buying public to watch this space for interesting things.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., July 25th, 1907.

Mr. Jos. Goodpaster, Mayville, Ky.
—Dear Joe: Arrived o. k. and haven't lost a minute. Leave here tomorrow for Chicago and other points.

I have bought quite heavily. My intentions, as you are aware, were to buy lightly, but found such delightful bargains that I "turned myself loose," and you realize just what that means.

Many factories are cleaning up. Such bargains I have never seen.

In some cases I have obtained as high as a 33% discount. I know not where we will secure storage for these heavy purchases. Our warehouse won't begin to hold them!

July styles are very beautiful, harmonious designs, in superb finishes. The entire output of many factories is sold. We will be unable to duplicate on these splendid styles. However, our trade will be taken care of. As before stated, I have bought quite heavily. The large Michigan factories know that Mayville is on the map!

There is a furniture exposition on at Chicago, and I shall go there before I return and endeavor to buy the finest samples. If successful, we will have some specials to offer our trade that will make the most indolent "sit up and take notice."

Have any of my New York purchases arrived yet? If so, I know that you are happy. Certainly my New York purchases were very happy ones.

Never in my 21 years merchandising have I seen such glorious bargains as appear in the New York purchases.

I advise you to put on a special sale at once. Move out some of the stock now in the house regardless of price, for I am fearful that we will be unable to secure warehouse room for these great shipments that will begin to pour into Mayville.

See Messrs. Short & Kain and tell them to rush the completion of our new furniture car. We will need all three of our wagons.

Look for me when you see me. Can't give you an address, as I am on the move.

Regards to all the boys at the store.
Your friend,
JOHN I. WINTER.

STATE COLLEGE of Kentucky, Lexington, Ky.

The State College of Kentucky offers the following courses, viz: Agricultural, Mechanical, Engineering, Civil Engineering, Mining Engineering, Electrical Engineering, Normal School, Classical and seven scientific courses, each of which extends over four years and leads to the bachelor's degree. Each course is organized under a separate faculty. The general faculty, consisting of Professors, Assistant Professors and Instructors, numbers over fifty.

County appointees receive free tuition, privilege of residence in dormitories, fuel and lights and traveling expenses if they remain ten consecutive months or one collegiate year.

The laboratories and museum are large, well equipped, comprehensive and modern. Military science is fully provided for as required by Congress.

Graduates in the several courses of study readily find employment with liberal remuneration. The total number of matriculates last year was 901. Each department has a specialist at its head, with the necessary number of assistants.

Summer schools are provided for in pedagogy, engineering and instruction in science and the liberal arts.

The young women find an excellent home, with board and lodging, in Patterson Hall, which is well equipped with all modern conveniences, bath rooms, hall for physical culture, at $3 per week. All the courses of study in the College are open to young women upon identical conditions with those applying to males.

The attendance upon the Normal School in connection with the Department of Education last year more than doubled that of any preceding year. Three new buildings, namely, one for the Department of Education, one for Agricultural Science and a Library Hall, are in process of erection and will be completed early in the next collegiate year.

For catalogues, methods of obtaining appointments, information regarding courses of study and terms of admission, apply to

JAMES K. PATTERSON, PH.D., LL.D., President.

Everybody cordially invited.

PIMPLES

"I tried all kinds of blood remedies which failed to do me any good but I have found the right thing at last. My face was full of pimples and blackheads. After taking Cascarets they all left. I am continuing the use of them and recommending them to my friends. I feel free when I rise in the morning. Hope to have a chance to recommend Cascarets."

BREEZE-SHAFER.

Mr. Estill C. Breeze and Miss Martha Shafer were united in marriage last evening at 7:30 o'clock at the residence of Mr. Charles F. Breeze in this city, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. W. L. Clarke of Mt. Carmel.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. Samuel Shafer of near Orangeburg. The groom being a son of Mr. Charles Breeze, a successful farmer of this county, and was formerly employed in this city.

The bride looked lovely in a costume of white silk and diamonds, and the groom wore the conventional black.

Only a few of the immediate friends of the couple were present, no invitations having been issued. Among whom were Miss May Halfeld and Miss Mary Corryell of Orangeburg, chimes of the bride, Mrs. Samuel Shafer, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Breeze, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Breeze, Misses Anna Foster Breeze and Lena Breeze, Messrs. Jack Laytham and H. L. Welsh.

After the ceremony a delightful wedding supper was served by Mrs. C. F. Breeze.

The presents received by the couple were numerous and costly and came from relatives and friends of Mason and Fleming counties.

After a few days visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Breeze will go to Cincinnati to make that place their future home.

THE LEDGER has a few Germantown Fair Catalogues for distribution.

SKULL FRACTURED

But Earl Collier Can't Tell How He Was Injured

Found unconscious on Third street near Park in Cincinnati, late Tuesday night, Earl Collier of Poplar Plains, Fleming county, partially regained his senses at the Hospital in that city Wednesday.

He said he arrived in the city Tuesday at 5 o'clock on a C. and O. train intending to go to Middletown.

He could not remember anything after he left the train and cannot recall whether he fell or was assaulted.

His skull is fractured at the base which accounts for his loss of memory, this usually accompanying an injury of this character. His condition is exceedingly critical and even if he does survive he will have to undergo a lingering hospital siege.

ALWAYS MORE! MORE!

The Universal Cry—Graft and Greed Siamese Twins of Selfishness

"I want more," cries labor, already in enjoyment of the highest wages in a generation.

"I want more," cries capital, in enjoyment of the highest level of interest upon money invested in many years.

"I want more," cries the merchant, as he pockets the highest prices for commodities.

"I want more," cries the housewife to her husband, as she compares her allowance with the advancing costs of living.

"More," "more," everywhere the demand is for "more." Railroads want more money for extension and equipment. Investors want more dividends, wage-earners more wages, society more to spend in luxuries that are fast becoming necessities, colleges more endowments, and the Government more appropriations. Where is "more" coming from?

John L. Keyes, Winchester's oldest citizen, died Wednesday, aged 91.

James Grimley, aged 11, of Preston, Bath county, was arrested at Owingsville this week charged with horse stealing. The boy's father is serving a five-year sentence for horse stealing and the boy declares he stole the horse to be with his father in prison.

The gage marks 17.7 and falling.

The Queen City will be down tonight from Pittsburgh.

The heavy rains this week will aid materially in keeping the water at a navigable stage.

The Pittsburgh Packet Company is said to be negotiating for the purchase of the steamer Bonanza, now in the packet trade between Madison and Cincinnati.

The towboat J. B. Finley had some repairs made to her machinery at New Albany before departing for the South with a big tow of coal. The Finley took the tows of the Ed. Roberts and Tom Dodsworth.

The Federal authorities are about to make an investigation to ascertain whether or not there is any truth in the report that gambling is now going on on the packets on the Ohio river, plying between Pittsburgh and lower river points. The management of the Pittsburgh-Cincinnati Packet Company and all the river Captains are emphatic in their denial of the charge and say that they will welcome an investigation, which can only prove the utter falsity of the charges made. The result will be the revoking of the licenses of all boats on which gambling is carried on.

READ THIS AND PROFIT THEREBY!

This is a trying time of the year. Many discomforts arise from the heat. The best way to be comfortable is by bathing often, at least twice daily, and by using a liberal quantity of talcum powder. By bathing often one keeps the skin clean and the pores open, thereby allowing the entire body to breathe freely, which means perfect health.

The best soap to use for the bath and toilet is Picard's Complexion Soap, a non-injurious, healthful soap. Talcum powder keeps the skin cool, allays heat rash, stops chafing and is an excellent toilet requisite. We have a number of kinds.

The Manufacturers' Record.

Evidence of the South's accumulating wealth is seen in every direction. No one can make a trip through that section with his eyes and ears open without being impressed with the many ways in which its financial improvement finds expression. During the first six months of the present year the Manufacturers' Record received reports of either the formation or incorporation of 106 new railway enterprises—that is, companies not connected with existing trunk lines—in the different Southern states. Including Missouri, Indian Territory and Oklahoma, the total was 133. Some of these companies represent projects of several hundred miles in extent, and while as yet comparatively little has been done in the way of construction, the incorporators and promoters of these various plans are taking time by the forelock, making surveys, securing rights of way or bonuses, as the case may be, so as to be in readiness to push construction.

GIRL BABY'S AWFUL ECZEMA

Sight of Eye Destroyed by Disease—Tried Five Doctors but Grew Worse—In Agony Eight Months—Parents Discouraged, Until They Tried Cuticura Remedies

IN ONE WEEK ALL SORES DISAPPEARED

"Our little girl, one year and a half old, was taken with eczema or that was what the doctor said it was. We called in the family doctor and he gave some tablets and said she would be all right in a few days. The eczema grew worse and we called in doctor No. 2. He said she was teething, as soon as the teeth were through she would be all right. But she still grew worse. Doctor No. 3 said it was eczema. By this time she was nothing but a yellow, greenish sore. Well, he said he could help her, so we let him try it about a week. One morning we discovered a little yellow pimple on one of her eyes. Of course we phoned for doctor No. 3. He came over and looked her over and said that he could not do anything more for her, that we had better take her to some eye specialist, since it was an ulcer. So we went to Oswego to doctor No. 4, and he said the eyesight was gone, but that he could help it. We thought we would try doctor No. 5. Well, that proved the same, only he charged $10 more than doctor No. 4. We were nearly discouraged. I saw one of the Cuticura advertisements in the paper and thought we would try the Cuticura Treatment, so I went and purchased a set of Cuticura Remedies, which cost me $1, and in three days our daughter, who had been sick about eight months, showed great improvement, and in one week all sores had disappeared. Of course it could not restore the eyesight, but if we had used Cuticura in time I am confident that it would have saved the eye. We think there is no remedy so good for any skin trouble or impurity of the blood as Cuticura. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Abbott, R. F. D. No. 9, Fulton, Oswego Co., N. Y., August 17, 1906."

Complete External and Internal Treatment for Every Humour of Infants, Children, and Adults consists of Cuticura Soap (25c) to Cleanse the Skin, Cuticura Ointment (50c) to Heal the Skin, and Cuticura Pills (50c), (in the form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 25c per vial of 60) to Purify the Blood. TWICE-TOLD TESTIMONY.

Maysville People Are Doing All They Can for Fellow Sufferers.

Maysville testimony has been published to prove the merit of Doan's Kidney Pills to others in Maysville who suffer from bad backs and kidney ills. Last any sufferer doubt that the cure made by Doan's Kidney Pills are thorough and lasting, we produce confirmed proof—statements from Maysville people saying that the cures they told of years ago were permanent. Here's a Maysville case:

Henry Bertram, shoemaker, of 27 East Third street, Maysville, Ky., says:

"I believe everybody in Maysville has read in the papers the testimony I gave in March, 1900, about Doan's Kidney Pills, for I have been asked again and again by residents of this town if that statement were true. For the benefit of persons who may now be suffering from forms of kidney trouble I repeat my testimony. Before I got Doan's Kidney Pills I had suffered for some time with backache and a tired feeling and having aching in and about the kidneys. Being a shoemaker, I thought my trouble was caused by my work for every time I took cold it settled in my back. Doan's Kidney Pills quickly rid me of the trouble and never, from that time to this, have I had any cause to complain of my back or kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills perform exactly what they promise, and I will say that in my opinion there is no remedy for kidney disorders equal to Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents a box; Foster-McIlburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
